

This should not be sitting on the home screen but should form part of the “Where do you want to stay” function.

When someone goes to type into the “Where do you want to stay” box then the client sees the options “Current Location and Your Recent Searches”.

Recent Searches should also give a few of the last searches and not just the last one.

Clean it up guys – this needs to look professional.

Please use the keyboard which also shows the “@” symbol and also the “.” (full stop) so people can easily enter their email address without having to search for the hidden fields.

Use your own skills to choose a font, bold (whatever) to make this easily visible
